

Dry Powder Inhaler Device Market Growth, Revenue Share Analysis, Company Profiles, and Forecast To 2028

Increase in ageing population globally who are prone to respiratory infections

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, April 11, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global Dry Powder Inhaler Device Market is estimated to reach USD 964.5 Million by 2028, according to a new report by Reports and Data. This can be mainly associated due to increasing incidences of hereditary diseases, lung disorders and increasing pollution due to the high discharge of harmful chemicals are significant reasons for chronic respiratory diseases that are generating a significant demand for the dry powder inhalers. Improved efficiency of dry powder inhalers and better results in comparison with alternative therapies is a driving factor that will aid market growth. Based on statistics, the rise in elderly population base inclined to respiratory infections will boost market growth. A significant cause of lung disorders in teenagers and adults is the addiction to nicotine. Increases in variations of hormones due to the changing lifestyle which can trigger the need for having an addiction are also significant factors stimulating Market demand.

Dry powder inhaler market in North America accounts for the largest share of 22.30% in 2020, which is driven due to the presence of world-class healthcare infrastructure with technologically advanced practice, a high number of people with respiratory problems, higher spending, strict guidelines and presence of leading industry players in the region. The U.S. will boost the North America dry powder inhaler industry due to the increasing predominance of asthma and other respiratory diseases copulated with the growing geriatric population. Adoption of new technologies will further propel the growth of dry powder inhaler devices.
