ABOUT

Phillip Flores, better known by his artistic name Phil Flow was born on March 25th, 1983, in Northern California. The eclectic artist grew up on the outskirts of St. Louis Missouri in the city of St. Peters. Empowered by a driving passion for music at a young age, Phil Flow decided to pursue a career in music at the age of 19. Flow’s musical voyage began with a group of local friends who helped the artist develop his talents coupled with a local record company.

Performing numerous shows in and around the city, Phil Flow was exposed to several avenues, honing his skills and learning in the studio, whilst simultaneously searching for the perfect sound that many independent artists or producers would hope for.

After a series of failed attempts to connect with group members and the label, Phil decided to part ways and pursue a career on his own. He re-evaluated his goals and decided to focus on his own voice, unlike many around him that gave up on their own talents. Starting over in 2008, the artist has continually progressed, armed with an enviable work ethic, achieving his life-long goal of launching his very own independent record label “83 Beats LLC”.
