Chae and LaVoie bring decades of combined experience in consumer electronics sales and marketing to Pivo's rapid U.S. growth.

The Pivo Pod is a smartphone mount that allows influencers, YouTubers, vloggers, photographers, educators, athletes, realtors, equestrians, and casual creatives to capture high-quality video and images with minimal effort. The Pivo Pod converts a smartphone into a personal camera operator that can capture the creator's every move.

"The Pivo Pod offers a solution to content creators who want to create better," states Pivo CEO Ken Kim. "The Pivo Pod provides automated face and body tracking that is affordable and easy to use by anyone with a smartphone. Creators worldwide have been incredibly enthusiastic when they discover how well the Pivo Pod and our full line of products perform."

Motion Tracking AI-Technology for Content Creators

One of the difficult challenges facing content creators is the ability to film themselves in motion without holding a smartphone in their hand or a selfie stick or relying on a stationary tripod. The Pivo Pod gives the user the power to capture stunning video footage, high-quality images, and trending image applications using an Android or iOS smartphone without relying on anyone else to hold the smartphone.

Pivo Pods can even create 3D tours of virtual spaces, a popular feature amongst real estate professionals.
