"... He was just so interesting, and I could tell he had led quite a life. I caught him as he was walking out for a while, talking. He learned he had written a book of poems, so I went home that evening and ordered the book. I have enjoyed his writing style and the events of his life of military service and his career after leaving. He had such a positive outlook and was such a proud American and had such a love for his country. Having met him, it made it a special read."

Adventure isn't hanging off a rope on the side of a mountain. Adventure is an attitude we must apply to the day-to-day obstacles of life."
