The growing consumer health consciousness and the increasing prevalence of skin-related diseases, obesity, cardiovascular disorders, diabetes, etc., are among the key factors bolstering the aloe vera gel market. Apart from this, the rising product usage in reducing inflammation, lowering the symptoms of acid reflux, minimizing the cancer risks, treating hemorrhoids, etc., is further augmenting the market growth. Moreover, the shifting consumer preferences from chemical-based products to herbal or organic ingredients are acting as significant growth-inducing factors. Besides this, the expanding utilization of aloe vera gel in various personal grooming items, such as facial creams, moisturizers, face wash, etc., is also positively influencing the global market. Additionally, the inflating product requirement in the healthcare sector for treating mild wounds is projected to catalyze the market growth over the forecasted period.
