Costa Rica has an incredible array of biodiversity, landscapes and ecosystems, and is home to 214 known amphibian species, all within a very small geographical area. There are lots of frogs to be found, making Costa Rica a perfect place for a SAVE THE FROGS! Ecotour.

SAVE THE FROGS! is a California-based 501(c)(3) public charity best known for their pioneering efforts to save the world's rapidly disappearing amphibian species. Since 2013, they have also been a leader in ecotourism, having led frog-focused adventures throughout Latin America (the world's amphibian biodiversity hotspot). SAVE THE FROGS! has a long history of educating the general public about amphibians and the environment, and has brought numerous travelers on its past ecotours. Due to the demand for an adults-only tour, this tour has been created as the first of its kind adults-only SAVE THE FROGS! ecotour.

The tour is being led by SAVE THE FROGS! Founder Dr. Kerry Kriger, who has given over 400 educational presentations on amphibians in 20+ countries. The tour will be joined by numerous local wildlife experts who will share their extensive knowledge of Costa Rica's wildlife and environmental issues. Ecotour participants can be assured of an extremely educational experience in beautiful natural settings. Nightly accommodation will be at some of Costa Rica's most comfortable ecolodges.

The mission of SAVE THE FROGS! is to protect amphibian populations and to promote a society that respects and appreciates nature and wildlife. Frog populations have been declining worldwide at unprecedented rates, and nearly one-third of the world's amphibian species are threatened with extinction. Since 2008, SAVE THE FROGS! has been at the forefront of worldwide amphibian conservation efforts, having organized over 2,000 educational events to spread the word about the rapid disappearance of amphibians and empower citizens of all walks of life to protect their local frogs, toads, salamanders and newts.
