Haig Ardzivian, VP of Operational Innovation at Quantum, will implement innovative technological solutions to benefit Quantum's agents, associates, & customers

DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, April 19, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dallas, Texas: Quantum Assurance International, Inc. is pleased to announce that Haig Ardzivian has taken on a new leadership role as VP of Operational Innovation. Haig's role will be to bring innovative technology and easy-to-use products in partnership with VP Harsha Patnam, Vice President of Product and Technology at Quantum Assurance. As part of his role, he will help simplify complex problems at Quantum by teaching the team, overhauling processes, and implementing technology to drive business results.

Mr. Ardzivian brings 16 years of P&C insurance experience to Quantum, including responsibilities in carrier and agency operations. Early on in his career, he focused on analytics, project and process management utilizing lean six sigma. Using his passion for working with people, he then grew his leadership skills to become a leader in sales, underwriting, and customer service. Using his innovative thinking to solve complex problems, Haig drove business results and made everyone feel successful and engaged. In his most recent role, he worked at an insurtech startup as Senior Director of Insurance.

"I am super excited about Haig coming on board with Quantum. Haig brings a wealth of
