Bentley Residences will rise to almost 750 feet and will overlook the dunes of Miami's Sunny Isles district close to the Porsche Design Tower. The 200 plus apartments will be designed and built by the well-known Sieger Suarez Architects and Dezer Development in collaboration with Bentley. Dezer Development cooperated with Porsche to design the Porsche Tower and Armani to design Armani Casa Residences. Sieger Suarez Architects and Dezer Development ensure the plans for the Bentley Residences are in the most capable and trustworthy hands.

"Myself and my team are excited to be working with the developer on this masterpiece of a project. We can not wait to see what 2026 has in store for us as our property portfolio continues to grow," Maria Kuzina, Owner, Miami Luxury Real Estate LLC.

Each residence is planned to come equipped with a multi-car garage which will tunnel through the apartment building's exclusive elevator system. Each luxury condo residence will showcase a private balcony and floor-to-ceiling windows that will encapsulate the essence of Miami's ocean shore and bay. The design of each residence will prioritize seamless indoor-outdoor living, along with a sunken pool and sauna, ideal for the warmer climate in Miami. Residents can expect many lavish amenities such as a cigar lounge, whiskey bar, cinema, restaurant, private beach, and more as well as perfectly groomed gardens and grounds which will add to a feeling of tranquility.

The architectural construction will start in 2023 and the plan is to produce triangular windows on the outside of the building which will form Bentley's famous diamond icon. The sun will hit each window which will allow for a reflective shimmer, mirroring diamonds and the proverbial luxury that residents can expect upon moving in. MLRE looks forward to selling a piece of heaven to the future residents in this masterpiece of development.
