information that will change everyone's perspective about Black People in a good way. This book is written as a counterargument to David Horowitz's account about Black People's responsibility for their own oppression. "The Nickson View II" is the creation of published author Victor L. Nickson, a writer who has published two books and has an interest in politics.

Nickson writes, "My book is a rebuttal to David Horowitz's horrible tome that Black People are responsible for their own enslavement. The Right wing periodically publishes this type of nonsense as a way to keep America from moving forward towards a more perfect Union. Charles Murray's Bell Curve, which Professor Stephen Jay Gould destroyed in his epic rebuttal called Curveball, is another one."

Published by Book Vine Press, Nickson's new book is an intriguing account that unfolds a plethora of facts about the black community. Here, readers of all ages and races will learn about inclusivity.

This book is written for all Americans, regardless of race, creed, or political association, to inform them about the truth and slavery.
