

American Fidelity and CircleIT Donate Laptops to Kentucky Students

After the devastating tornadoes that hit Kentucky in late 2021, American Fidelity donated 50 laptops to Kentucky schools.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK, UNITED STATES, April 27, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- After the devastating tornadoes that hit Kentucky in late 2021, American Fidelity reached out to the impacted school districts to identify ways to help. One need was for laptops, either to replace items lost in the disaster or to provide updated technology that connects better when needed for remote learning.

“

Giving back is a huge part of who we are, and we are always looking for ways to support education.”

Kate Mathis, AF Kentucky state manager.

“Giving back is a huge part of who we are, and we are always looking for ways to support education,” said Kate Mathis, Kentucky state manager for American Fidelity.

“We’re thrilled to be able to support local school districts and provide laptops to students so that they can continue learning and preparing for their bright futures.”

American Fidelity donated 50 laptops to Graves County Schools and Hopkins County Schools in partnership with CircleIT, who donated time and expertise to collect, test, clean, repair, permanently erase the data beyond Department of Defense erasure standards and ship the laptops being donated to the Kentucky schools.

“We’re proud of our partnership with American Fidelity and are thankful for the opportunity to play a role in donating laptops to students and teachers at the Kentucky schools that were impacted by devastating weather events,” said Will Cohen, president of CircleIT. “This type of social good inspires our team and is directly aligned with our mission to repurpose technology devices and put them in the hands of those who need them most.”
