Social Security Bulletin, Vol. 77 No. 3, 2017 states that Hispanics' life expectancy is greater than other population groups but they have the lowest rates of high school and college graduation causing lower incomes. These trends have impelled Midland Trust to create and launch a Spanish website that will help inform the Hispanic community of options to save for retirement. "The Spanish website will help those whose English is not their first language or those who struggle to read in English," said Dave Owens, Owner of Midland Trust.
