

The Perfect Mother's Day Gift for Dog Moms is a Book: I'm Not Single I Have a Dog: Dating Tales From The Bark Side

Would you like a review copy?

OXNARD, CA, UNITED STATES, April 27, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Every May, families celebrate the special mothers in their lives. While traditionally, Mother's Day is celebrated by two-legged sons and daughters, it is becoming increasingly common to celebrate with four-legged children too. After all, raising a dog requires a lot of time, dedication, patience, and unconditional love, but in the end, those wet kisses, wagging tails, and endless cuddles make it all worth it.

The celebrated memoir, I'm Not Single, I Have a Dog, examines the powerful bond between a woman and her four-legged children. Available at McFarland Publishers, Amazon, Barnes & Noble, and other fine booksellers, most of the book takes place in and around the entertainment industry in Los Angeles. And dog love is featured prominently throughout.

Would you like a review copy? If yes, please email susan@alphadogpr.com

About I'm Not Single, I Have a Dog

At age 60, Susan Hartzler has learned to accept, even love, the single life, provided she has good friends and a dog or two by her side. Always attracted to the quintessential bad boy with his good looks and charming ways, she was sure she could change "the one" into a devoted partner and loving father. Still, her compulsive giving and fixing behaviors went hand in hand with her disappointing and disastrous romantic relationships. On a hopeful trip to the pound, she found not only a dog to care for—but a partner who would sniff out the bad guys and help Susan find purpose and meaning in her crazy world. Thoughtful and funny, this memoir follows Susan's life through the many ups and downs on her way to finding unconditional love. Her journey is a personal one, full of hard decisions, learning to put herself first and stop entering and staying in unhealthy relationships. By saving a dog, she rescues herself, learning to love herself as much as her dog loves her.

McFarland is now one of the leading publishers of academic nonfiction in the United States, offering about 6000 titles in print and publishing more than 350 new titles each year for a worldwide market. For more information on I'm Not Single, I Have A Dog, visit the book website.

Author Susan Hartzler and her current pack of fur babies.

“

I wanted to write this book to show how it's possible to live a happy, successful life as a single person. No one should put up with an unhealthy relationship.”

Susan Hartzler

Susan Hartzler
Alpha Dog PR
+1 8185858641
email us here

Author Susan Hartzler and her childhood dog, Siesta.

---

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/570078683>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2022 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.