The new partnership between MTI & ADR Notable just made managing your caseload of disputes easier.

ST. PETERSBURG, FL, USA, April 28, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --

The Mediation Training Institute (MTI) at Eckerd College, the foremost provider of training, certification and consulting in workplace conflict management and mediation, and ADR Notable, the leading case and practice management platform for dispute resolution professionals, announced a new partnership that will revolutionize skills training for mediators, human resources managers and other conflict management professionals.

Key elements of the proprietary MTI training program, methodology and materials will be integrated into the ADR Notable platform, making it easy and seamless for MTI practitioners to carry newly acquired skills back with them into professional mediation settings. Successful conflict management training can save companies tens or hundreds of thousands of dollars each year by avoiding the high costs of organizational conflict.

“Research shows that students generally, including those in corporate training programs, lose an average of 90% of what they’ve learned after one week. By configuring our proprietary training lessons right into ADR Notable, we’ve solved that problem for MTI graduates,” said Terry Marschall, Senior Faculty Consultant and Master Trainer for MTI. “Our clients will be invited to an automated case management tool that continuously reinforces new mediation skills and guides them through the process whenever they need to apply the best practices we teach.”

“I admire the outstanding work done by the MTI organization and its Master Trainers,” said Gary
