Problem: Most schools are running on teaching methods that are out-dated and ineffective. The focus on learning is not there, as the teaching methods are also time-consuming.

Agitate: Learning should be engaging, fun, and challenging. Learning should be an experience where you can explore your potentials and grow into the person that you want to be.

Solution: Educational technology can be used to improve the learning process. The use of technology allows for more engaging activities, as well as less time spent on traditional teaching methods.
