

Colonial Revival Red Bank, New Jersey Estate to Auction via Concierge Auctions without Reserve

In cooperation with Kerry O'Brien of O'Brien Realty LLC, 713 Navesink River Road will auction in May.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, May 2, 2022 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Just a forty-minute commute from Manhattan, 713 Navesink River Road will auction next month via Concierge Auctions in cooperation with listing agent Kerrin O'Brien of O'Brien Realty LLC. Currently listed for $7.999 million, the property will sell without reserve. Bidding is scheduled to be held on May 12 -17th via the firm's digital marketplace, ConciergeAuctions.com, allowing buyers to bid remotely from anywhere in the world.

The elegance and luxury of decades past is calling from this Navesink River estate. Built in 1927, this 9,000± square foot Colonial Revival has been restored to its original grandeur, with ample upgrades for modern comfort and convenience. On par to some of the finest Long Island & Newport Gold Coast mansions of the early 20th century, this estate is among the most remarkable homes in the NJ/NY/CT area, with Hamptons-like living year-round, a 40-minute commute to Manhattan, and picturesque grounds. The home was originally designed by New York City Architect, Arthur C. Jackson. Jackson studied in Paris and graduated from the École des Beaux-Arts, which surely inspired his design of the beautiful and classic 713 Navesink River Road. Architect Arthur C.

Jackson was known not only for his work and design in the city, but also of private, country homes outside of Manhattan.

The spectacular mansion cannot be missed, with its custom heated pool and stone pool deck tucked discreetly to the side. Beyond the grand home awaits fruit orchards and a boutique vineyard; the estate's grapes have proven their merit in wines that have won medals in international competitions. Indoors, discover more at every turn: soaring ceilings and vast windows bathe the spaces in natural light. The curved grand staircase, eight ornate fireplaces, private balconies, and craftsmanship, quality, and woodworking details that would be almost impossible to recreate today, all within a truly welcoming atmosphere.

Additional features include design aspects from Arthur C. Jackson such as intricate moldings, woodworking, original building craftsmanship, quality & details that cannot be recreated today. The estate features 9,000 square feet along with 10.5 acres. 7.5 of these acres are farm accessed for property tax purposes. Inside the mansion you can find eight bedrooms, eight fireplaces, seven full bathrooms, and one half bathroom. Outside discover the custom 40x50 foot heated swimming pool, spacious deck, grounds with fruit orchards and wildflowers, and estate grapes used in award-winning wines. The private front gates lead to a vast circular drive and there are not one but two entertaining patios immediately off the house. Additional spaces include staff quarters, a storage shed, and pool cabana. The estate is equipped with a gated entry, security system including cameras, and full perimeter fencing to ensure privacy and safety. The beautiful landscaping is fed by outdoor sprinkles along with an irrigation well.

Nicknamed the "Greenwich Village of the Garden State," nearby Red Bank boasts a plethora of arts and culture offerings plus world-class restaurants. Nestled along the Navesink River, some
