The Florida PBA designation has special meaning for Spero Georgedakis, founder and CEO of Good Greek Moving & Storage. The son of Greek immigrants, Spero moved to South Florida from New York when he was only 19 years old, getting a job as a police officer. He spent much of his career in law enforcement as a member of the elite

S.W.A.T. team. He has worked hard to instill values he learned in law enforcement in the moving company he founded.

“As a company, we always look to align ourselves with high-quality organizations, and the Florida PBA certainly fits into that category. Their work on behalf of law enforcement officers and public safety personnel is something we admire,” said Georgedakis. “For me, personally, it makes me proud to partner with an organization that supports our brave public servants. I know how hard they all work to protect our communities and keep us safe.”

Good Greek and Georgedakis have a long association with causes and events that benefit law enforcement. Good Greek sponsors "American Heroes Day" at the South Florida Fair in West Palm Beach. The event offers all active military, veterans, firefighters, law enforcement personnel, frontline workers and their families discounted entry and ride tickets. It also featured a fundraising concert. Good Greek is also in support of Florida Attorney General Ashley Moody's Be A Florida Hero initiative to aid Florida law enforcement agencies in the recruitment of highly qualified law enforcement candidates and their Families to Florida. Good Greek is extending relocation discounts and incentives to out-of-state law enforcement that take advantage of the program.

As the Official Movers of the Florida PBA Good Greek will make appearances at select Florida PBA events throughout the year. The company is excited to show off its custom-wrapped Florida PBA moving truck at functions like the recent PBA Officers Ball in Palm Beach and the upcoming Florida PBA Leadership Conference in Daytona Beach in support of police and all first responders.
