"We are so excited to offer a new senior class option for South Carolina students," Principal Dr. Kelly Griffis said. South Carolina Preparatory Academy combines the best elements of homeschool, private school, and traditional public school, in a tuition-free online public charter school. The school fosters young minds by helping them to adapt their education to their life's goal. While many will go on to college, some may choose other paths that are just as important and valid. SC Prep helps to prepare them for anything they choose to do with their lives.

SC Prep's program is a rigorous classical education designed to involve the whole family in helping a student succeed and thrive. The school allows students and parents to work with educators to bring success to their education. The South Carolina Preparatory Academy team is committed to one thing: creating adults who can think creatively and critically and have all the tools they need to succeed in life.

"In addition to course selection," Principal Griffis said. "We are happy to help assist students with setting up college visits and finalizing transcripts as students prepare to graduate."
