Out of Poland, which is available on Audible, is the story of three men poised to unlock secrets during a deadly war with hopes of redeeming the world.

Set in Poland in 1939 with Germans marching towards Warsaw, the Nazi military machine is deadly. As devastation is realized, these men are tasked with finding and extracting the German military communications device, Baby, which is kept under heavy guard. This is used for strategic battle plans during their march on Europe.

Facing great peril and odds against their survival, the men resolve to make a difference so those who died helping them would not have sacrificed in vain.

In addition to this novella, Breakfield and Burkey, based in Dallas, Texas, have published 11 tech-thrillers in their Enigma series. Their books are available in print and audio formats on Audible, iTunes, and Amazon.

Their book, The Enigma Factor, reached #1 both nationally and internationally and was recognized at the Texas Best Books Award. In addition, the book took First Place in the 2020 Techno-Thriller category in the 9th Annual Contest for Texas Authors.

The Enigma Source, the authors' 10th book, received the Dan Poynter Global Legacy Award in four categories in August 2019. The books have also been recognized by the Texas Association of Authors and the Colorado Independent Publishers Association, among other publications and organizations.
