Individuals can rapidly chill drinks of all kinds — including water, soda, wine, sports drinks, and juice — to the exact temperature they desire.

“We’ve harnessed thermo-electric cooling technology to provide our customers with a fast and effortless beverage chilling solution for compact spaces,” said Nick Mathews, of Equator Advanced Appliances. “Whether in a dorm, RV, office, or vacation rental, this single bottle chiller was created as an on-the-go way to enjoy your favorite drink at the optimum temperature.” There is also a standby function that maintains the drink at the ideal temperature over long periods. This is convenient for long study sessions in the dorm room, overtime at the office, movie night at home

The WR 001 Single Bottle Chiller features a sharp digital display, as well as smooth and sleek touchpad controls. These two features allow for easy navigation and temperature adjustment. This model can be used to chill both cans and bottles — including full-size wine bottles.

After inserting the beverage of choice, users can chill cans and bottles between 41F and 64F (5C-15C) degrees with the tap of a button. Once the selected temperature is reached, the chiller
