Among the product type, the wireless segment is expected to register for significantly rapid revenue growth owing to factors such as easy deployment with no damage to walls, remote accessibility. Moreover, these types of video doorbells are in demand due to high convenience as it doesn't involve wiring, and modern homes do not usually permit drilling and wiring after construction.

Based on distribution channel, the online segment is expected to register rapid revenue CAGR throughout the forecast period. Availability of a variety of video doorbell products on various online portals, increasing number of reliable online platforms at favorable discounted rates, and doorstep deliveries, and are key factors boosting segment growth. In addition, these online platforms offer better profit margins for manufacturers.

North America is expected to account for largest revenue share throughout the forecast period owing to factors such as presence of key market players, increasing concerns regarding home safety, increasing investments in wireless technology, availability of wide range of video doorbells, and high adoption of smart homes.
