The rice seeds market consists of sales of rice seeds by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that are cultivated to produce various forms of rice such as white rice, brown rice, basmati, jasmine, Arborio, among others. Rice is the cooked and ingested starchy grains of an annual Southeast Asian cereal grass (Oryza sativa). Rice seeds form a cultivated rice plant that grows to be about 1.2 meters tall and yields a rice grain. Rice seeds are domesticated and cultivated before being planted in prepared beds and transported to a field or paddy.
