This level of success has derived from our commitment to others and a company culture we are proud of. We're on a mission to give leaders a leg up and increase the success rate of all real estate agents and franchisees in the industry. Our franchise model allows our franchisees to invest and realize returns rapidly. By franchising our established standard, we're helping real estate agents grow in their markets all over the country. And, it's a franchise opportunity with implausible perks.

1st Class Real Estate offers several proven models to choose from and each is based on very competitive splits. Control is afforded to each franchisee, and we help and support the personalization of each franchise. Our proven model provides franchisees with leads but also the tools to generate their own leads. The most efficient systems, software, and processes are in place, and we have an entire resource center dedicated to providing franchise owners with all of the support needs necessary for success. Our support staff integrates the coaching, training, and backing needed without dictating every aspect of the business. Along with founder and CEO Rhyan Finch, we make ourselves available whenever franchise owners need any type of assistance.

Furthermore, we offer our Discovery Days online, so those who are interested in franchise ownership can become acquainted with 1st Class without the time and cost associated with travel. We are also the first real estate franchise to offer a virtual model that doesn't require franchisees to hold office space or hire employees, so they can grow and operate with little to no overhead. One of our main goals is to provide more value at a lower cost. We promote life balance, and we constantly aim to improve, evolve, and progress.
