/EINPresswire.com/ -- Families nationwide are struggling to find care for their children so they can go to work. Difficult choices are being made to sacrifice careers because communities are unable to support the demand for childcare.

Child Care Biz Help caters to the child care industry, helping centers, schools and daycares become more profitable. Visit childcarebizhelp.com for more info.

For over 6 years, Child Care Biz Help has worked primarily with existing child care center owners on becoming more profitable. Recently, they have had a wave of interested entrepreneurs, some of which are moms, dads, and teachers, all wanting to start-up their own daycare.

According to Caroline Jens, founder of Child Care Biz Help, families are beginning to switch gears and consider daycare ownership out of necessity. Not only are these types of decisions being made in the home, but Jens is also seeing businesses stepping up to the challenge of meeting their employees' child care needs.

"We have even been contacted by large companies like hospitals, churches, and even manufacturers that want to start a daycare for their workers as a benefit. Communities are taking control of their families by uniting together to form solid solutions to prevent them from becoming childcare deserts", Jens said.

Often, many who are willing to step up and help solve this problem are running into roadblocks. Starting a childcare center is not easy and can often be a daunting and costly endeavor. Because of the demand, Child Care Biz Help now provides a suite of daycare start-up solutions to entrepreneurs and businesses in order to help fill a need for rebuilding the economy and our communities.

To start a childcare center, you can typically choose to purchase a franchise, but that requires a large upfront investment and lifetime royalties. This large of expenditure isn't always an option for most entrepreneurs wanting to fill this need.

With so many entrepreneurs looking for childcare business consulting and start-up services, it can be hard to figure out where to turn. That's where Child Care Biz Help comes in.

Child Care Biz Help provides a wide variety of childcare business services and options specifically for starting a daycare, including:

- Blogs filled with free tools like a downloadable Daycare Business Plan
- TurnKey - Child Care Biz in a Box - designed to save time, and money, and allow new owners the ability to jump-start the process to daycare ownership
