Sentry Enterprises announces a global partnership with Johnson Controls, a global leader in building intelligence

WEST CHESTER, PA, USA, May 23, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sentry Enterprises is the maker of the SentryCard biometric platform. SentryCard was built for organizations seeking an indisputable assurance of who is entering their facilities, accessing their devices, or logging into their websites. Johnson Controls will begin reselling the SentryCard, globally, as of May 1st, 2022.

"The SentryCard, with its on-card biometric authentication capability, uniquely solves for one of today's most pressing security challenges, 'proof-of-identity at the edge', said Jason Ouellette, Director of Technology & Business Innovation at Johnson Controls.

Identification Without Question

The SentryCard is the first open-architected biometric platform, in the form factor of a credit card, built to address the security requirements of Information and Operational Technology, as well as Physical Security; providing multi-factor biometric proof-of-identity for building and systems access. SentryCard will be available through Johnson Controls' resellers, integrators, and certified channel partners on a global basis.

"Johnson Controls continues to be the leader in driving innovative solutions for the most elite enterprise organizations in the world. Combining forces to deliver absolute proof of identity could be a game-changer for organizations who are thirsting for today's leading-edge biometric solutions", said Mark Bennett, CEO at Sentry Enterprises.
