"Our social media community has grown beyond our expectations, the weight for the Car NFTs has risen to more than 10,000 and we have now completed two Parking Lots for our Car DAO community." "After achieving all these amazing milestones, now is the time for us to deliver on the second, and most exciting phase of our project, the actual game play". Terauds continued.

what truly sets us apart from other games is our CARDAO structure. This is quite unique in this space, and I feel it provides a deeper sense of community, ownership and loyalty among our members"

The company is announcing the Beta launch of the Arena PVE on May 20th. This second beta testing stage will activate the Super Arena PvE battles. The first track scenario "Mountain Loop" will be launched during this phase, after which the CarDAO community will vote on the creation of additional new track scenarios.

When asked why the Supercars Platform has been so enthusiastically embraced by players and fans, Terauds responded, "I think what truly sets us apart from other Play-to-earn platforms is our CAR DAO structure. The actual future development of the game is controlled and voted upon by our members. This is quite unique in this space, and I feel it provides a deeper sense of community, ownership and loyalty among our members”.

We asked Jaime, so what is next for Supercars? “I don’t want to give too much away too soon, but we have a really exciting roadmap for future developments, including a Top club alliance tournament for the CarDAO community, where we carve up the 10 million prize pool for tournament winners. We’ll be enabling an open trading market so our CarDAO members can freely trade their NFTs and we’ll be launching a rental car service to encourage players who do not have NFTs to participate in the game, to further build our community”
