The modular kitchen market consists of sales of modular kitchen products by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that manufacture modular kitchen furniture. Modular kitchen is also referred to as modern kitchen furniture that consists of a furniture layout with modules of cabinets, which hold kitchen commodities. It facilitates the effective usage of kitchen spaces which are being fitted together with symmetry to create whole functional furniture with proper segmentation.

Global Modular Kitchen Market Trends

Technological advancement and automation is the key trend being followed by the companies operating in the modular kitchen industry. For instance, in May 2021, RTA Outdoor Living introduced new modular outdoor kitchen system (MOKS) that allows customers to choose designs and place ready to assemble outdoor kitchen. The other concepts that are being incorporated are the introduction of technology and automation for the worktop, chimney, and other key areas such as eco-friendliness (anti-bacterial kitchens) as a key focus area of the modular kitchen.
