Reports And Data

NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, May 25, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The global Compound Houttuynia Market size reached a significantly robust value in 2020 and is expected to register a steady CAGR over the forecast period. Industry analysis indicates that demand for reliable products has been rising substantially, and their adoption across healthcare and pharmaceutical industries has been increasing in parallel due to changing market trends and consumption patterns, and these factors are expected to support market growth over the forecast period.

Rising need for innovation in existing medical products of the pharmaceutical industry has propelled research facilities across different industries to alter the form of diagnosis and treatment of a patient. Houttuynia cordata Thunberg (HCT) is referred to a perennial herbaceous plant that grows in wild and moist, locations of Asian countries including India, China, and Japan. Compound houttuynia is extracted from HCT and is commonly used in the form of tablets and capsules as an anti-bacterial, antiviral, immunostimulant, and anti-inflammatory drug. Increasing usage among people and high efficiency in the treatment of inflammatory diseases, simplex virus, and dengue will create new opportunities for market.
