Key Highlights of Report

The perishable food segment accounted for largest market share of 36.0% in 2019. Rising disposable income of consumers in developing economies has been resulting in increasing demand for perishable food products.

Production stores segment revenue is expected to expand at a rapid CAGR of 14.4% during the forecast period. The increased need for protection of food products and raw materials against spoilage and contamination during various production processes has been driving demand for production stores.

The refrigerated containers segment accounted for a significantly high revenue share in the cold storage construction market in 2019. The refrigerated containers are increasingly adopted by the grocers as they are cost-effective and offer the best solution for cold storage warehouses of temperature-sensitive products.

In June 2020, Lineage Logistics, which is an innovative and well-established provider of temperature-controlled logistics solutions provider, announced completion of acquisition of Emergent Cold. The acquisition is expected to help the company in providing more advanced and innovative logistics services globally.
