Our Coconut water offerings have an incredible refreshing taste due to the following reasons.

The Coconuts are from the Mekong Delta Region which is the last station absorbing the rich alluvial soil from the Mekong River before it flows into the Ocean.

This fertile alluvial soil, rich in hummus produces the most refreshing coconuts, keeping the original taste of nature.

Due to above reasons our coconuts have their uniqueness to the rest of the coconuts in the world.

When conducting blind tests, 9 out 10 participants expressed the incredible refreshing taste of our Coconut water over others currently in the market.

Our Coconut water has.

Coconut water contains various minerals, vitamins, and antioxidants such as shikimic acid and caffeic acid. These antioxidants help to neutralize the damage that can be caused by free radicals that are produced in the cells during cell metabolism.

We currently process 300,000 Coconuts per day, equal to about 130,000 - 140,000 litres of Coconut water per day and churn out 9,000 bottles an hour.
