Superhairpieces, a leading human hairpiece supplier in North America, is introducing the Evolve Global Academy. course instructor*

Starting next month, the men's hair replacement specialist program will commence with three different courses offered focused on hair system installations. There will be other programs introduced in the future related to hair extensions, coloring and much more. For now, attendees can not only learn the fundamentals of hairpieces, but also the various base types, how to install each type of base, how to perform a consultation with a client, and much more.

Attendees will receive starter kits which include a hair system as well as a number of hairpiece supplies. Upon completion of each course, attendees will receive a certificate of completion which only serves to showcase their new expertise in their particular course.

These courses are all taught by experienced hair replacement specialists and consultants who work or have worked at Superhairpieces, and boast years of experience.

“Our academy is good for licensed hairstylists that would like to expand their business by promoting extra services,” said Superhairpieces stylist and course instructor Christina Luu. “It will also benefit anybody who isn't licensed, but has a significant other that wears a hairpiece and would like to help them apply it on and also cut it in.

“It’s a great opportunity to invest early and get a head start in one of the fastest growing industries today.”

Interested applicants can purchase their first course right away. The first in-person class will take place on June 13th next month while the first online class will take place June 20th. Details regarding future classes will be provided on the course website.

Additionally, attendees who have bought one course will receive 46 percent off on any future course purchases under the same program.
