Nigel Lobo, RRP, Chief Operating Officer of Grand Pacific Resorts said, “We are honored by the recognition we received at ARDA. The outstanding performance and passion of our associates and teams has spawned this great recognition. These achievements are a direct reflection of Grand Pacific's unwavering commitment to creating experiences worth sharing for all our valued associates as well as the tens of thousands of owner families we have the privilege of serving every year.”

In early May, the 13 Grand Pacific award finalists traveled to the ARDA Conference in Hollywood, Florida where the winners were announced. In addition to exclusive networking opportunities, attendees also enjoyed a variety of special events, including a day trip to the Everglades on an airboat tour, plus a pool day with a cabana for total rest and relaxation followed by the awards and dinner celebration.

Winner Shannon Kucharski said, "I've attended ARDA before, and this time felt even more special. The hotel, pool, beaches and outing were all gorgeous. However, the best part of the trip was getting to connect and celebrate with my colleagues and our leadership team. It was truly a magical trip with my Grand Pacific family that I will always remember."
