According to the spokesperson, "The event is a must for individuals seeking a career in software engineering and those who need some guidance in excelling in this industry. The panel will include multiple specialists in this field working with major companies. They will offer insights on developing a career as a software engineer and ways to succeed and climb the career ladder."

This is a registration-only event, which will be divided into multiple sessions. Interested individuals can either register for the entire event or specific sessions. The summit will be live-streamed on Hopin, Linkedin, YouTube, and the link will be sent to the registered attendees.

"The summit and registration are completely free as the event is being sponsored by European Leadership University and OfferZen.

However, there are limited seats available, meaning those interested should register soon on the TechMinds Summit website," concluded the spokesperson.
