MedM gets Health Monitoring Platform of the Year 2022

with an unmatched number of personal medical devices. MedM RPM software works with over 600 IoT peripheral sensors and wearables, providing users and caregivers with utmost flexibility.

MedM is the maker of a remote care SaaS (software as a service) platform, plus a range of family health monitoring applications. Its intelligent software can be used across a number of different platforms and can help keep track of 16 biomarkers (including blood pressure, heart rate, body weight, oxygen levels, spirometry, sleep, etc.) in 15 languages. The company's mission is to improve the speed of information exchange between all parties involved, contributing to the quality of care, and improving patient satisfaction.

The MedM personal health diary, family health monitoring and chronic care management apps are perfect for use on mobiles and tablets. All recorded data can be stored directly on the mobile device, synchronized with Apple Health and Google Fit or backed up to the cloud. The MedM Hub Middleware is ideal for unattended data collection within care facilities. It can receive information simultaneously from four-to-eight medical devices in a 10-meter range, alternately achieving an unlimited number of device pairings for seamless data capture.
