

Safe Harbor CPAs, Top-rated International Tax CPA, Announce Content Updates to Assist with International Taxation Issues

Safe Harbor CPAs is proud to announce new content updates on its website to assist with users who are looking for assistance on international tax issues.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, June 2, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Safe Harbor

Taxation is complex enough, but adding in international tax issues adds in the need for a best-in-class CPA firm with deep experience in taxation.”

Chun Wong

LLP, a top-rated international taxation CPA firm in San Francisco California at <http://www.safeharborcpa.com/>, is proud to announce new content focused on issues surrounding international taxation and expatriate tax return preparation. As globalization increases and San Francisco bolsters its leadership as a top US city for global citizens, the demand for international tax expertise is increasing.

"Taxation is complex enough, but adding in international tax issues adds in the need for a best-in-class CPA firm with deep experience in taxation," explained Chun Wong, Managing Partner at Safe Harbor LLP. "We're excited about new content on our website focused on international taxation to help business owners and highly affluent individuals locate international tax CPA firms not just in San Francisco but throughout California from Los Angeles to San Diego, Sacramento to San Jose."

Interested persons can visit the newly updated content at <https://www.safeharborcpa.com/international-tax/>. That page explains how the CPA firm offers its services for international taxation issues, especially for businesses or high income individuals who have exposure not just to the United States but to Canada, China, Taiwan, Germany, and other major countries. In addition, many individuals who live and work in San Francisco or elsewhere in California face "expatriate" tax issues, meaning that they may be subject to taxation both in the United States and in their home country, such as China, Germany, the United Kingdom, etc. These persons are directed to newly updated content at <https://www.safeharborcpa.com/expatriate-tax-service/>. In both cases, persons or businesses can reach out for a no obligation consultation with the tax staff.

INTERNATIONAL TAXATION REQUIRES A CPA FIRM WITH EXPERIENCE

Here is the background on this release. The world is getting smaller every year. Even with the Pandemic, people live and work across national borders. Many Canadian citizens live or work in the San Francisco Bay Area, for example. They then may become subject to taxation in both the United States and in Canada. Others, including major corporations and businesses, may have operations not just in the USA but also in other countries. Again, these entities may confront taxation exposure across more than one country. For this reason, the newly announced content on international taxation and expatriate tax return preparation make it easy for impacted parties to learn more and possibly reach out for a detailed, individualized consultation.
