Adalimumab is a prescription medicine which is sold under the brand names Humira and Exemptia. heumatoid arthritis, psoriatic arthritis, Crohn's disease, psoriasis, and ulcerative colitis are all treated with adalimumab. TNF (tumour necrosis factor alpha) is commonly bound by adalimumab. When TNF interacts to TBF receptors, an inflammatory response to autoimmune illness is triggered. By binding to a TNF, adalimumab reduces the likelihood of an inflammatory response.

Adalimumab Market Dynamics

Drivers

Rise in the incidence rate of autoimmune disease

The rise in incidences of autoimmune disease such as psoriatic arthritis, plaque psoriasis, ulcerative colitis, ankylosing spondylitis, rheumatoid arthritis and Crohn's disease is anticipated to flourish the growth rate of the market. Along with this, the growing prevalence of chronic disorders will enhance the demand of adalimumab market.

Increasing investment for healthcare infrastructure

Another significant factor influencing the growth rate of adalimumab market is the rising healthcare expenditure which helps in improving its infrastructure.

Rising geriatric population

The surging number of geriatric population will propel the market's growth rate during the forecast period of 2022-2029. As per the World Ageing 2020 research, the world's population will be roughly 727 million people aged 65 and up in 2020. In 2050, the number of elderly people is expected to increase to 1.5 billion. The geriatric population is more prone to chronic ailments, which is anticipated to enhance the market's growth rate.

Furthermore, rising initiatives by public and private organizations to spread awareness and surging demand for biosimilar drugs owing to their cost-effectiveness will expand the adalimumab market. Additionally, high disposable income and rising cases of upper respiratory tract infection will result in the expansion of adalimumab market.

Opportunities

Increase in the number of research and development activities

Moreover, the market's growth is fueled by an increase in the number of research and development activities. This will provide beneficial opportunities for the adalimumab market growth. Along with this, rising drug approvals and launches will further propel the market's growth rate.

Moreover, rising investment for the development of advanced technologies and increase in the number of emerging markets will further provide beneficial opportunities for the adalimumab market growth during the forecast period.
