Whitenicious By Dencia Kojic Collection

Combining Dencia's vision, driven by a vision of a different version, her approach with her knowledge from years of working with renowned chemists, dermatology's and Drs and using her own products, each product is always thoughtfully formulated to care for all skin types, tones, and textures from all over the world. Through innovative and scientific advanced active ingredients Whitenicious by Dencia offers clinically proven skincare solutions to support the skin's natural abilities and revitalizes the complexion as it brightens and keeps your skin youthful and appealing to your eyes because what matters is how you see yourself.

"With all my business endeavors, I've been fueled by my passion for skincare that stems from my personal struggles with Addison's disease and the changes it brings to my skin, my goal is to fill gaps in the market with expertly-crafted and universally-loved products that are high performance driven and are scientifically proven to work on all skin types especially hard skin like African- American skin since most brands do not cater to our skin." says brand CEO, Dencia . "What began as Addison's disease diagnosis and side effects became the catalyst for my journey of skincare discoveries, inspiring my late sister Rebecca sonkey and I to learn more about my condition and how to care for my skin. Working with several Drs from endocrinologist, dermatologist, chemist and more helped me navigate this process daily.

Our products are Paraben free, Organic, vegan, made in America with no steroids, No hydroquinone or harmful chemicals.
