

Why The Family That Founded UPS Is Investing In This Environmentally Friendly Packaging Solution

Webinar Thursday June 9 at 12:00 PM Eastern: Investing in environmentally friendly packaging solutions

NEW YORK, NEW YORK , USA, June 6, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Not many people know more about shipping than the family that founded UPS. So it's news when they invest in a packaging company. Force Family Office is proud to host a webinar on June 9 at 12:00 p.m. EDT, featuring Tim Casey from the Casey Family Office, the founders of UPS. He will join FoldedPak leadership to discuss why he invested in ExpandOS, an innovative, environmentally friendly packaging solution.

ExpandOS is highly engineered, SFI Certified, recyclable, paper-based packaging that offers superior protection to kraft paper, airbags, bubble wrap, and peanuts while being extremely cost competitive. The magic is in the patented design of ExpandOS that blocks, braces, and cushions the items in the package. The company ships a brick, a ceramic coffee cup, and a lightbulb in the same package to demonstrate its effectiveness and has never had any breakage. ExpandOS allows companies to get out of plastic packaging without increasing costs.

The panel includes:

Timothy P. Casey: Member of the Casey Family Office, the founders of UPS and a major investor in ExpandOS technology.

Brad Fehn: Co-owner and president of FoldedPak, the company that invented ExpandOS packing system and its associated automation technology

Darren Collins: A packaging industry expert with two design patents and over 26 years in the space working with one of the top packaging distributors

Attend this panel discussion to learn more about the opportunity created by a company that has the potential to earn a significant share of the $1.5 billion packaging materials market.
