“SiteOwl is on a mission to empower security integrators and end-users to perform at a level never before seen in the security industry. This win reflects SiteOwl’s commitment to simplify lifecycle management.” said Su Subburaj, SiteOwl’s CMO.

The ESX Innovation Award gathers some of the best and most promising products and services in the electronic security and life safety industry. SiteOwl is proud to be highlighted as an innovative company that’s simplifying security integration and leading the digital transformation.

About SiteOwl

SiteOwl is a technology company transforming the way integrators and security directors build and maintain physical security systems. Leveraging a suite of unique, cloud-based technology tools, SiteOwl partners with both system integrators and end-users to deploy and manage security systems at scale.

About ESX

The Electronic Security Expo - ESX 2022 hosted by the Electronic Security Association (ESA) will be held June 14-17 in Fort Worth, TX. It's the only national event dedicated to best practice sharing for pro security integrators, dealers, and monitoring professionals.
