

MAXD Forecasts Substantial 2022 Revenue & Profit Expecting to Exceed $100 Million

SAN DIEGO, CA, UNITED STATES, June 8, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- via MAFIP is pleased to announced Max Sound Corp OTCPK: MAXD today Forecasted Substantial 2022 Year-end Revenue and Profit Expecting to Exceed $100 Million Dollars Annually based on Existing Contracts & beginning with Q4 Run Rate. This release contains the entire information that was originally released to the public on Reddit on March 21, 2022. It also contains additional important new data and a far greater value proposition than any OTC PINK Company has forecasted this year or maybe ever before.

MAXD CEO Greg Halpern noted, "We have told many industry players for more than a year that we were going to establish ourselves as a company with not only breakthrough technologies, but also that we would have access to a mammoth inventory of amazing and valuable new technologies, plus precious metals, and rare minerals that support a rising global need to power superior devices, vehicles, and machinery with new-form-energy. MAXD shareholders can be confident that this is going to lead us to rapid market acceptance. The grand plan for the better world is now coming together just as we had envisioned it. This is the first of many such achievements which we expect will bring enormous profits of epic proportions, prosperity for billions of people around the world and tremendous gains for all our investors big and small. Speaking of investors, I believe we can do much better in gains than we did on last year's test run when we had hardly any significant news. Here's a reminder - In last year's early effort, our increase over 10 weeks with $235 million dollars of trading volume resulted in a top end gain of 19,600%. I will go on record here with our nine (9) figures forecast that I think we could make last year's 19,600% share price increase look modest by comparison to where I think we can end up. Go MAXD ----->>> MAXD power... have an amazing MAXD day."
