

AI Exosphere Satellite Writer team advances emotional intelligence systems and creates new skills for mobile app launch.

Emotional Reinforcement System (ERS) for HailyAI API makes it more valuable. Spirits are high for seed round. New integration capabilities for the API.

ORLANDO, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, June 16, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AI Exosphere Satellite Writer team advances emotional intelligence systems and creates new skills for mobile application launch.

Sal Peer, CEO of AI Exosphere

On the last RISE team day, Sal Peer, CEO of AI Exosphere, announced that the Satellite Writer SaaS is getting access to the breakthrough new Emotional Reinforcement System (ERS) for the HailyAI API, which powers the platform.

If we are not the best and offer the most, what are we doing here?”

said Sal Peer, CEO of AI Exosphere and Founder of Satellite Writer

The ERS has already gone live for Satellite Writer beta. The vibe was very excited as the team continued to improve the Satellite Writer SaaS. There was also mention of many new skills in development for the Satellite Writer Playground.

"If we are not the best and offer the most, what are we doing here?" said Sal Peer, CEO of AI Exosphere and

Founder of Satellite Writer

It's a bold statement but so far followed by massive action. While Sal focuses on growing and hardening the system Alex Athey, CTO of AI Exosphere has been working diligently with the company's application developers to build additional integration capabilities for the HailyAI API.

"It is my mission to ensure that the code is good and that we make Satellite Writer available for all, said Alex Athey, CTO of AI Exosphere and Co-Founder of Satellite Writer.

With many new and exciting signs of progress, the team feels it is likely that they will be ahead of their Roadmap if funded.
