abundantly creamy, rich in texture, and is just adequately spiced. For making the dish, chicken pieces are marinated for a long time with a variety of different spices, then taken to the tandoor, and after being slightly roasted there, is cooked to perfection. Its combination with the soft naan bread is heavenly and although not common, you can also serve it with different rice dishes. Another great item, which you can get at most Indian fast-food places is Chana Masala. It is usually made from chickpeas and a generous amount of chilies. The Chana Masala can be eaten with a kulcha, a form of flatbread, very soft in texture, and often toasted with ghee. The Chana Masala is a great vegetarian delicacy and mainly originates from the Northern region of India. It is great to eat and quite fulfilling. It can be eaten both as a form of snack and also as a main course. The dish is great and the delicious gravy of the Masala makes it stand out. Another great dish that you will find at any Indian restaurant is the tandoori chicken, and it is one of the easiest of the bunch to make.

Marinating big chicken pieces with a healthy dose of spices and then roasting it over the fire in a tandoor completes the preparation. Mint chutney goes great with it along with a salad of onion and cucumber. Now, it is difficult to just point to a single dish among the Indian cuisine, as all the dishes are great to eat.
