We can provide your event with free licenses, marketing promotions, etc. It's an exclusive chance to award your audience with a useful tool for malware analysis.

ANY.RUN sandbox

ANY.RUN is an interactive malware analysis sandbox. The service detects, analyzes, and monitors cybersecurity threats. ANY.RUN is holding a leading position among platforms that detect malicious programs. More than 300k malware analytics work with the service. And a lot of users benefit from the platform's results of the investigation.

ANY.RUN sponsors the Osintomático Conference

ANY.RUN has a successful experience in sponsoring cybersecurity conferences. Have a look at this use case:

May 20-21, the Osintomático Conference was held in Madrid. It was the first experience for ANY.RUN sandbox to support a conference. And then, the service became a sponsor of the CTF competition. There were 4 premium subscriptions provided: Hunter plan, an exclusive license given for winners of the first places. They got expanded access to high-quality malware analysis.

"From the organization, we want to thank ANY.RUN for their support in this first edition of the Osintomático Conference, hoping to continue with this union in all the editions that will take place from now on."

Roberto Gonzalez, Co-Founder of the Osintomático Conference
