The universities in Philippines offers a world class education in the field of medicine, nursing, pharmacy, business and many more subjects. Philippines has been a sought after destination to pursue medical education since the past few years. Besides its affordable medical universities, bountiful natural resources, acceptance of English language, the country welcomes diversity like the none other. The locals are extremely hospitable towards foreign students and tourists. In general, the Filipinos are warm, cheerful people with a great sense of humor. Philippines is the third largest English speaking country in the world. English is extensively used everywhere in the world. Pursuing MBBS in the Philippines is a wise decision. Medical education in the Philippines is an easily workable option for various reasons, including similarities like homely and welcoming culture, affordable cost of living & tuition, compatible quality of education, state of the art infrastructure and advanced educational methods.

The current education system in the Philippines requires 4 years of college grades after high school to receive a Bachelor's degree. An Indian student who has studied in India under the 10+2 system needs to complete a BS course before enrolling for an MD program. To be precise enough, an Indian student pursues a BS + MD course of 1.5 to 2 years and 4 years respectively. The system is expected to ease out in the forthcoming years as Philippines is also switching over to the 10+2 system.

The country is becoming one of the finest medical education hubs in the world. Renowned institutes are rapidly growing to attract more international students every year. The universities in the Philippines are having amazing student resource centers, Expat and Alumni communities, students hostel with great meal plans including Vegetarian and Non - Vegetarian meals in the Indian style, thrice a day.

Education Pattern:

India follows the British system of education where in the education pattern of the Philippines is US based. The private colleges here in the Philippines are still less expensive and budget friendly unlike in India. Also there is no capitation fee for admissions which is an added advantage.

Davao City:

Davao is the most populous city in Mindanao and the third largest city in the Philippines known for its bustling economic activities, urban build-up and modern amenities. The city is also nicknamed as the "Durian Capital of Philippines", & "Chocolate Capital of Philippines".
