New customers can try out the Cold Pressed Lemonade Discovery Kit, which includes four delightful flavors of lemonade that do not come with artificial sweeteners.”

The juices are popular with customers who would like to introduce their loved ones to the juice cleansing journey or would like to surprise a health-conscious recipient with something new. From mini juice cleanses to a build your own (BYO) kit, customers can easily select their favorite flavors from a mix of juices, proteins and mylks. All PUR Cold Pressed's products are vegan and gluten-free, making use of the freshest ingredients that are juiced at the source.

The nutritional value of cold pressed juices is up to five times higher than that of traditional juices produced by a centrifugal presser. One reason for this is because the fruits and vegetables don't go through the process of oxidation and degradation before being blended. In addition, less waste is produced as a result and fewer processes are involved, contributing towards sustainability. Customers who are looking to detoxify and improve their physical health can consider cold pressed juices as a healthy gift idea for the holiday season!

Brooke Galko, Chief Juice Ambassador, says, "new customers can try out the Cold Pressed Lemonade Discovery Kit, which includes four delightful flavors of lemonade that do not come with artificial sweeteners." Customers can also opt for individual juices when it comes to customizing a gift set that will suit their recipient's individual tastes and preferences.
