

TALENTThire Closes Seed Round Led by Blockchain Founders Fund and Gaingels

ATLANTA, UNITED STATES, June 22, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --

TALENTThire, a tech-enabled recruitment platform that empowers employers and talent suppliers with the tools they need to navigate the complexities of the new normal, announced that it has successfully completed its seed round led by Blockchain Founders Fund and Gaingels.

With this partnership, the company is poised to further strengthen its technology platform progressing to an integrated recruitment and workforce management solution harnessing the power of state-of-the-art machine learning algorithms, also known as 'Hybrid Intelligence'.

A "Data" and "Predictive Analysis" Driven Solution to The Employment Landscape

Jen Bolin, the President of TALENTThire stated "With the dramatic shift in the global employment landscape, TALENTThire is extremely well positioned to be the technology leader in the non-traditional talent market."

At a time where the talent acquisition industry is in a rapidly evolving state, TALENTThire saw the need to provide a human-centric, yet data driven solution to hiring organizations that are negatively impacted by their inability to source, engage, and manage their workforce. As a result, they are unable to meet the various complex internal demands for production.

TALENTThire addresses this problem by being the first of its kind to create synergies between technology and human capital, paving the way to a smarter way of sourcing candidates.

"We are very excited to partner with BFF and Gaingels," continued Bolin. "These strategic partnerships will strengthen TALENTThire's position in harnessing the power of data for future
