

AGC Georgia Names Blake Riedling of Brasfield & Gorrie, Jada Taylor of Ace Electric as Volunteers of the Year

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, June 16, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Associated General Contractors of Georgia (AGC Georgia), the leading association for the construction industry, is honored to recognize Brasfield & Gorrie Operations Manager Blake Riedling and Ace Electric Project Administrator Jada Taylor as its Volunteers of the Year.

Recently presented at AGC Georgia's Annual Convention, the award honors industry members who generously donate their time and expertise to the association throughout the previous year.

Riedling led efforts to launch the inaugural Metro Atlanta Skills Challenge, which exceeded its fundraising goal, allowing leftover funds to be distributed to participating high schools. The event was so successful it has outgrown its original host location and the 2nd Annual event planned for October will be able to accommodate double the participation.

Both of these members selflessly provided their time and leadership to grow the AGC Georgia Skills Challenge series”

AGC Georgia President Dave Moody

Taylor helped develop this year's inaugural Southeast Georgia Skills Challenge, which also exceeded its fundraising goal, allowing leftover funds to be distributed to participating high schools. The region's Skills Challenge was attended by 15 schools with 85 student competitors and more than 200 student observers. The observers connected with construction industry exhibitors to learn about construction trades and career opportunities while their schoolmates competed in trade competitions.

“Blake and Jada are incredible assets to one of our largest initiatives of growing awareness of construction careers and getting more young people interested in construction trades,” 2020-2022 AGC Georgia President Dave Moody said. “Both of these members selflessly provided their time and leadership to grow the AGC Georgia Skills Challenge series that welcomed more than 1,900 student competitors and student observers from 80 schools, and for that, we are incredibly grateful.”
