

Prodly Named a High Performer in 4 Categories in G2 Summer 2022 Reports

The Prodly Suite Receives Outstanding Customer Reviews

PALO ALTO, CA, UNITED STATES, June 22, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Prodly, the next-gen DevOps platform for change management in Salesforce, is proud to announce that the Prodly DevOps suite of products has been named a High Performer in four categories of the G2 Summer 2022 Reports. G2 is the world's premier tech marketplace featuring peer-to-peer reviews of business software and services.

These performance ratings show that the market recognizes our value as a comprehensive, userfriendly DevOps platform while simultaneously appreciating the quality of service and support we offer."

Max Rudman, CEO of Prodly

Prodly DevOps was rated a high-performing product in the Continuous Integration, Continuous Delivery, Cloud Migration, and DevOps Platform categories. It outperformed market leaders in several instances, including ease of setup, ease of use, ease of admin, ease of doing business with, and quality of support.

The Prodly DevOps suite also received a 94 percent satisfaction rating for meeting requirements as a DevOps platform. This is notably higher than the competition. In addition, 94 percent of customers were likely to recommend the Prodly DevOps suite as a continuous integration and a continuous delivery solution.

"We're very excited about our results in the G2 Summer 2022 Reports," said Max Rudman, CEO of Prodly. "Prodly takes the complexity out of change management in Salesforce by providing easyto-use tools that enable less technical users to effectively participate in the change management process. These performance ratings show that the market recognizes our value as a comprehensive, user-friendly DevOps platform while simultaneously appreciating the quality of service and support we offer."
