

Teacher Feedback Gets an Upgrade with Mote Loops

Edtech startup Mote introduces a new product designed to fix feedback's flaws

NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, UNITED STATES, June 27, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Mote Technologies today launched Loops, a new product. Loops is a feedback engagement tool integrated within Google Classroom, and it offers teachers a way to make their feedback significantly more engaging and measurable.

“We’ve been inspired by Mote’s users to focus our energies on fixing feedback” says Will Jackson, CEO and Co-founder at Mote. “Loops is our first step on that journey, and it addresses two of the biggest challenges that educators have experienced with feedback - student engagement and impact measurement.”

Features and benefits of Loops include:

- Effortless integration with Google Classroom for both typed and verbal feedback
- Rewarding and interactive student experience
- Reporting and analysis of student engagement

Mote Loops is on display at Mote’s booth #1749 at the ISTE conference this week, and will be released into Beta from July 4, with general release in early August. Loops will be available for free to all Mote users, with premium features available for our Unlimited customers. For more information on Loops, visit <https://mote.com/loops>
