WILLOW SPRINGS, NC, UNITED STATES, July 8, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Healing Green Farms is excited to announce their Barnyard Concert and Market Inaugural Event.

Janie Dickens, owner of Healing Green Farms

This all day barnyard bash will have something for everyone: from a local vendor market, kids play areas with a bounce house and face painting, to live music from The Soul Psychedelique Orchestra, with opening band The Tyson Brothers' Band. The event will also include a charity cornhole tournament to benefit American Legion Post 116 in Fuquay-Varina. Guests are invited to bring their appetite, because there will be a fantastic selection of food trucks onsite (alongside beer and wine vendors). Best of all - it's free to attend.

Following this free inaugural event, locals will be able to visit Healing Green Farms every Monday night starting July 25th for The Barnyard Concert and Market series. This affordable ticketed event will continue to offer dinner, drinks, dancing, and a variety of local artisans.

Janie Dickens, the third generation owner of Healing Green Farms, hopes this event will foster a deeper sense of community in Willow Springs.

The Soul Psychedelique Orchestra has an extensive music library that spans styles from the 1940's Big Band sounds to Beach Music, R&B, to Rock, Reggae, and Latin music. Healing Green Farms has selected them for The Barnyard Concert and Market Series because of their remarkable talent and ability to get the party started!
