

ExzoSwap Introducing Non-Custodial Crypto Wallet for all Crypto Buyers

TAMPA, FL, USA, June 29, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Exzo Network is releasing a blockchain technology that lets users pay through crypto money. Through ExzoSwap, people can buy and sell their cryptocurrencies without having to worry about the technology.

"We are very excited to announce the launch of our non-custodial crypto wallet. With this technology, we can help people take control of their digital assets without having to rely on centralized exchanges," said the Exzo Network developers.

We believe that this will help to give users ownership of their own digital assets on multiple different blockchains and give more people access to the benefits of blockchain technology."

The new service will allow users to buy, sell, and trade cryptocurrencies directly from their Exzo wallet without having to go through a centralized exchange. This will give users more control over their digital assets and help them avoid fees associated with traditional exchanges.

"We believe that this will help to give users ownership of their own digital assets on multiple different blockchains and give more people access to the benefits of blockchain technology," said the founder.

The launch of ExzoSwap is an important step in its mission to provide people with the tools they need to take control of their finances. The company is committed to helping people around the world access the benefits of the digital economy."

Exzo Network is a blockchain company that is building the next generation of financial services. The company is on a mission to provide people with the tools they need to take control of their finances and participate in the digital economy. Exzo Network's products include Exzo Swap, a non-custodial crypto wallet that allows users to buy, sell, and trade cryptocurrencies without having to go through a centralized exchange.

The non-custodial crypto wallet, ExzoSwap, supports multiple blockchain networks, including Bitcoin (BTC), Ethereum (ETH), and 1inch exchange's coin selection which includes Fantom coin (FTM). The ExzoSwap app will provide the latest news from different sources in order for users to stay updated on what is going on within this ever-changing world of cryptocurrency.

The Exzoswap crypto wallet will provide users with the latest information on how to buy, sell and trade NFTs. The service offers a variety of storage options for these new digital assets including Ethereum (ETH) or Polygon Token (POLY).

With this wallet, users can view all sorts of helpful features such as quotes from popular exchanges that are currently trading these tokens in addition to displaying their prices over time so it's easy when deciding whether to buy something new.
